I did it!

"It took a village, but Ru is outright gaga over her new room. All of her friends like to come over and visit."

WHEN LIZ AND DAN ROBERTSON set out to adopt Rukiya from Ethiopia, they figured the paperwork would give them a year to get their home in shape. Both artists, they wanted to brush their personal style on the 1805 Federal-style house in Eaton, Ohio, and update the kitchen and baths. Unexpectedly, the adoption sailed through in three months. "If only remodelings worked that way!" jokes Liz. Hurriedly, she and Dan splashed the nursery-to-be with exuberant colors inspired by Ru's homeland and Dan's whimsical bee painting. Friends pitched in with the crib, quilt, wardrobe, and rocker. "The crisis resolved itself beautifully, I think," says Liz. —BETSY HARRIS
